

LEARN

NURSING AT CABRINI

Cabrini has established its nursing program at the perfect time: The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics projects remarkable growth for the nursing profession—15 percent from 2016 to 2026.

The new major combines the academic rigor, faculty expertise, and experiential learning of the University's highly regarded science program and core curriculum, which is based on social justice and leadership development, with a modern nursing curriculum focused on health equity. Cabrini's coursework will prepare students to pass the NCLEX-RN examination, required of all registered nurses, and enter a profession in high demand within the expansive healthcare field.

Through experiential learning and Humanistic Engagement, students will develop clinical judgment skills to provide safe, quality, inclusive, and holistic care to diverse populations in a variety of healthcare settings. The state-of-the-art Clinical Simulation Center will optimize students' ability to refine their skills in order to foster confident, collaborative leaders in nursing practice.

NURSING CURRICULUM

NUR 101, 102, 201, 202

Nursing Seminar I, II, III, IV

NUR 301

Planning Care and Decision-Making in Nursing

NUR 302

Clinical Judgment, Quality, and Safety in Nursing

NUR 305

Health Assessment

NUR 311, 312

Pathophysiology and Pharmacology I, II

NUR 313

Foundational Nursing Practice

NUR 314

Nursing Care of Diverse Populations

NUR 320

Nursing Care of Dynamic and Vulnerable Populations

NUR 401

Scholarly Inquiry and Evidence-Based Practice

NUR 402

Fostering a Healthy and Effective Nursing Workforce

NUR 411

Sexual and Reproductive Health

NUR 413

Nursing Care of Patients with Complex Health Problems

NUR 415

Nursing Care of Infants, Children, and Adolescents

NUR 420

Population and Public Health Nursing

NUR 430

Nursing Leadership and Practice

Nursing majors also take courses in the core curriculum including Biology, Chemistry, Ethics, Mathematics, Nutrition, Policy, and Psychology.

DEPARTMENT CHAIR

Jennifer Specht, PhD, RN
Founding Director,
Nursing Program

EXPLORE MORE

cabrini.edu/nursing

CONTACT US

Admissions Office
admit@cabrini.edu
800.848.1003
610.902.8552

CABRINI
UNIVERSITY